

Magisterial Mission

Mobilize, Unify and Lead with Your Heart

Teacher: Monjoronson
Transmitter: Vicki Vanderheyden
Date: March 26, 2020

Monjoronson: These are trying times and they are significant, my friends. Your environment is rich with unique opportunities for you to influence those around you. Wherever you find yourself, we ask that you mobilize, unify, and lead with your heart.

There are some who profess that you are falling off course. That your countries will never be able to recover in the same way as they have in past. That you should be shaken and paralyzed by fear. They are correct on one point: things will be different.

Recovery will occur, but not without the fingerprint of your efforts to set the example. Those who are crying for a return to the past, fail to see that you are being led toward a new reality. One that is accomplished through the courage of each and every one of you, who stands to unite others with empathy, compassion, and love. This is indeed the language of your soul.

When the current reality finds you face to face with changes that are unfamiliar to you, it would be easy to feel that you cannot survive with what you may lose. But if it is the loss of things that you mourn, do not be blinded by your past reliance on material goods.

You are the daughters and sons of divine origin. You are visitors to this world and you have purpose. You are here to bring a change that will free you from the shackles of material gluttony, social inequality and spiritual poverty. You are here to assist those who have been trampled upon, to gather your families and friends so that you may realign yourselves with more sustainable life practices. Take advantage of this opportunity. Exercise your influence in a way that supports the values and the principles that will lead to your divine destiny.

Dear ones, you are truly the progeny of the First Source and Center. Though He is not the one who creates these crises, He is the one who will free you from your grief, your sorrow and your confusion. Listen to your heart, the very seat of your soul. He who feeds your soul, will direct you. Then mobilize, unify, and lead with your heart.

More of Monjoronson's transmissions can be found at www.magisterialmission.org