SPIRITUAL POWER
Volcano, Hawaii - #52

Noetic aspirants of divine values,

The embryonic juncture of collective transformation is often the most difficult season of transition because it demands courage, open-mindedness, and a genuine desire for change. Collective upliftment can only succeed individual comprehension of truth.

Be sensitive to the ubiquitous distortion of purpose in the present period of your planet and recognize the divergences that eclipse the authenticity of reality. Understand that the true meaning of power is founded in the purity of love--a true desire to assist others in communal service to the Supreme. Genuine power is always loving, cooperative and benevolent, and not controlling, superior or dominating. It is the ultimate reflection of conscious brotherhood and fraternal compassion inter-coupled with wisdom and expertise in the unity of upliftment toward perfection. Power is non-competitive divine energy that enables spirit evolution and is ever in alignment with the beauty and eloquence of divine will. It is always ministerial and nurtural and can be spiritually visualized as the afterglow of love.

You are called upon to develop a sterling power of spirit that is implanted in the eternal plentitude of love that perpetually radiates from the Ultimate Source. Your deepened faith and trust in the Father will gently guide you beyond the surface of aspiration, and you will become a brilliant point of light in the celestial chandelier of illumination that is fueled by the spiritual power of omnipotent love.
