

VERONICA

SEPTEMBER 12, 1994

OPTIMISM

Volcano, Hawaii - #7

I convey my nurturing love and gentle encouragement to all who receive my message.

It is so imperative to share all you've learned and this is the true essence of your purpose. Truthful and loving optimism blended with blessed intention will insulate your fragile tendencies towards discouragement and protect you when doubt and negativism surfaces in your thoughts.

Your mortal propensity for impatience often makes fertile ground for lowering your true potential in any given situation causing you to deny truth.

Unswerving faith and trust engenders optimistic anticipation and joyful action that leaves only room for positive beliefs--if you could only comprehend how effective each and every one of you are in the process of initiating favorable change--you are extremely important and very vital to the accomplishment of the divine plan.

Your measurements of progress are too anticipatory of rapid and striking changes, and that will not occur in the expectations you have set. All evolutionary processes may seem slow in your perspective; however, the constant enfoldment of enlightenment occurs in the strong, steady power of the Father's purpose.

Recall how brilliant optimism pervaded every example of our dearly beloved Christ Michael throughout his mortal existence on Urantia in his teachings and exemplary instruction to enliven the Spirit of Truth in us all.

If you would grasp the importance of your dual outreach to the Father and to your brothers and sisters by your willingness to extend love in all instances, you would be able to visualize the magnitude of your assignment and the steady, patient steps that would bring its achievement. Let the tremendous joy of knowing the Father fill you entirely so that optimism will pervade your reality and overflow to others in your loving effusion for planetary transformation.