Beauty continually unfolds around you in captivating loveliness, and a new dimension will penetrate your consciousness as you advance in perfection. It thrives in proportion to your ascension and begins to illuminate with intensity as you achieve increased skill in the perception of spirit.

The Father Fragment is inherently radiant and illuminates naturally from all His children. To truly recognize the incredible beauty of His unfolding purpose immediately transforms you into a state of irresistible adoration and meaningful worship of His magnificence.

As you develop spiritually, an extraordinary type of reflectivity will become recognizable to you, much like the radiant energy you perceive in another's smile. To us, you are like fragile little infant spirits that exude pulsating glows as you grow and who will eventually actualize and illuminate into brilliant beacons of supernal form.
